Races Under Auspices of Newport Y. R. A. Wind Up Cruise of New York Y. C.

By ARTHUR F. ALDRIDGE.

NEWPORT, R. I. Aug. 3 .- Con J. P. Morgan's sloop, Grayling, won the race for the fifty-footers to-day. She was cleverly sailed by H. S. Morgan, the Harvard oarsman, and led almost from start. The Spartan, owned by H. B. Plant and sailed by Commodore Ralph N. Ellis, was second. She finished 3 minutes 45 seconds after the Grayling. L. G. Hamersley's Acushla was third. and then came George M. Pynchon's

Five forty-footers started in the race or that class, and this was won by harles Lee Andrews's Pampero. F. D. I. Strachan's Monsoon was second, finding 1 minute 55 seconds after the ampero. The races were under the auspices of the Newport Yacht Racing Association, hich gave the prizes. They were man-sed by the race committee of the New fork Yacht Club, H. De B. Parsons, O. Spedden and Gherardi Davis. The achterine were favored by a nice sail-F. O. Spedden and Gherardi Davis. The yachtsmen were favored by a nice sailing breeze from northeast by north, which held true all day. It blew about thirteen knots strength at the start, but fell toward the end of the race to seven knots. Heavy water laden clouds serveneed the sun and occasionally there were light showers. The yachts left the harbor about 11 o'clock, some in tow of their tenders and others under sail.

She had to return and on the starboard tack met the others reaching for the line. Acushla then stood for the line on the port tack. Balleons were broken out on all the yachts and when the signal sounded Acushla was well up to the weather end and leading. The Spartan, Istalena and Virginia were close together and Grayling at the leaclose together and Grayling at the lee end of the line was moving very fast and had her wind all free. It was a reach with the wind just abaft the beam to the first mark. Grayling steered the best course, the others, particulary Acushla, holding too high.

The Grayling was the first to gybe by the first mark, and lifting her balloon lib-topsall reached on toward the sec.

by the first mark, and lifting her balloon fib-topsall reached on toward the sec-ond mark. On this reach she increased her lead slightly and was the first to haul her wind for the beat home. The Spartan was second with a comfortable show the results covered, keeping between them and the murk. The others suit acts, each skipper carrying out a liferent campaign. The wind dropped ighter and lighter and Grayling, always good turning to windward, steadily improved her position. She finished an asy winner, and then sailing on into the harbor was at anchor and had her sails stowed and mainsail furted and 478 covered when the others reached anchor-

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK

Reports floated all over the course to-day that the meeting course to-day that the meeting was going to be transferred to Beimont Park next week. They were not true but they were not altogether groundless. Early in the week the officers of the Saratoga Association and the politicians had a quarrel over free tickets.

The association refused the demands made on them and declared they would transfer the meet rather than give away all the badges requested. The politicians later accepted the number of badges offered and everything is now harmonious.

The real race of the day came in the second ewent. It was only an overnight purse, but it brought together a dozen juveniles almost all of which will be seen in high class stakes before the end of the season. It was a hummer from start to finish, with "Gushar Bill" Rowe's Oil Man the victor by the smallest possible margin, J. S. Cosden's Big Heart was second and Montford Jones's Pegasus third.

Oil Man ran like a truly great colt. Haynes got him away from the barrier well, but Big Heart, Slieveconard and Bud Fisher outran him in the first quarter and he stepped along in fourth were still on even terms and in the opinion of a vast majority of those who gathered around the judges' stand they were that way at the end. Hundreds called it a dead heat and those who did not refrained from calling the winner until the official numbers were posted. But the judges, who are in the best position to see the faish, sald oil Man won by a nose. Big Heart was the nearest thing to a dead heat race goors have seen in several years and all agreed no one would have been disappointed if the major portion of the purse were divided.

The last race brought about a disqualification which seemed unfair. After W. R. Carroll said that Wilson, who had so less up on Arapahoe, had fouled him a the back stretch and made him pull.

The stewards then called the patrol dige and when he verified the charge my took the race away from Arapahoe. they took the race a way from Arapahoe. There probably was some foul riding on the back stretch. Some racescers saw it but others with powerfur glasses did not and alleged that if there had been it was not serious enough to cause the disqualification. Hundreds of four had been to committed this season which appeared several times work, but no action was taken. The disqualification showed that the stewards are inconsistent in their ruilings, to say the least.

Another thrilling finish came in the inches apart. Sande was on Sennings Park and Thunderelap went over the finish line inches apart. Sande was on Sennings Park and he put up one of his best riden, but it was not one speck better than Pator did on Thunderelap. The two horses came down the homestretch head and head and hecause Sennings Park was the least bit gamer Sande landed him the victor in the very last stride.

tash had to leave for home a good deal carlier than she had originally intended. It was understood that the American champion would accompany the Misses Ceell and Edith Leitch and Miss Deris Chambers when the three English women golf stars sot out for their trip to the United States and Canada. Miss Stirling, however, is now on her way home, having saued on the Carmania on July 30.

It now begins to look as if there will be no international flavor at all this year to the national amateur championship at St. Louis except that which the Canadian players provide. For this year at least British participation in the Walker cup international matches has fallen flat, no that British amateurs and British golfers in general do not vish to deal generously with the visits paid to Great Britain by the lending players of the United States but simply because it would be next to impossible to organize a representative side with matters as they now stand.

The British are deeply grateful for the interest shown by American linkston in their championships this year, and there is general realization of the infinite amount of good which the interhange of such sporting courtesies create between the two peoples.
